Hi!

I'm currently in the Seattle airport, on my way to Cambodia:) My flight from here to Seoul is 12 hours and then I have 45 minutes to get onto my next flight to Siem Reap, which will be 6 hours long. So I have 18 hours of flight time ahead of me!

I'll be in Cambodia for 4 full days of meetings, hearing from their leadership what vision and strategy they feel God calling them to do. I'll also be building relationship in the process, which is a priceless currency in this line of work; the better we understand each other, the better we can work together. My time there is intended to explain more about how the Surge works, share how it's been going so far with Taiwan, and find out the potential strengths and weaknesses of ywam in Cambodia as the next Surge location. Of course, we want God to direct us to which Target Nation will be next, but I need to gather as much information from each nation as possible before we pray about it this Winter.

I'll then be flying to Taiwan on Saturday, November 12th. I'll be there for 3 weeks this time. I added an extra week to my usual Fall trip to Taiwan because there is more work that needs to be done in Taiwan at this point in the Surge. I want to be there to speak with their leadership and help as much as I can in person. I also wanted to add some extra days to my time in Taiwan so that I could join in The Rock cafe a few evenings to meet Taiwanese, pray for them and share the love and truth of Jesus. When I go to Taiwan, normally my time is too short and filled with only meetings, so I have been unable to join in the ministry alongside the Taipei staff. I will most likely travel to Yilan while I'm there this time because that's the next county that YWAM Taipei will pioneer a YWAM location in.

There is a lot to be done during my time in both Cambodia and Taiwan, so I would love prayer for wisdom and discernment from God on what (and who) to invest my time in the most. Especially in regards to the Surge in Taiwan, all of the leaders need wisdom on how God wants us to proceed. We believe God has said He is doing new things in Taiwan, we've seen the hearts of the Taiwanese people changing toward Him, therefore we need strength to remain dependent on His moment by moment leading.

I will email again while I'm in Taiwan! Thank you so much for your constant prayers; I really feel supported by them. You are just as much a part of the fruit we're seeing in Taiwan as those of us who are going there. Please keep praying for revival in Taiwan!

For His Glory,

Veronica
